PREFACE.

The preparation of this record has been a tedious work. It is believed by the Compiler that its publication will have a decided effect for good on land titles in Eastern Oklahoma. No one thing has been more responsible for the bad titles of Eastern Oklahoma than the lack of knowledge of the facts on the part of the public.

Congress after the making of certain treaties under which citizens of the Creek Nation were enrolled and received their allotments, enacted many laws materially effecting these treaty provisions and as a result the title to land. These laws, of course, were made public, but the facts under which any one of these laws were applicable, in any specific instance, were not given the same publicity. Many facts were purposely suppressed by the Government, and this was done in an effort to protect these allottees from the land shark. Their day, however, is now passed, and Congress, by subsequent laws, has so protected the allottee that the widest publicity of the facts is for the best interest of the allottee, as well as the public generally.

The publication of the Tribal Rolls, in 1907, gave the roll number, name of the allottee, age, sex and blood, and operated to a large extent to inform the public, but this information was not sufficient, in fact, it aided only those who, by reason of their familiarity with the workings and records of the Indian Offices, knew how to secure additional information. I emphasize the words "those who knew how" for this reason: only those who had a working familarity with the procedure and the records of the Dawes Commission, later the office of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, and now the office of the Superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes, knew what to ask for to advise themselves. An investor from Iowa, Illinois or New York knows nothing of these records. He is shown the roll book, published by the Interior Department, and he takes the information there given as a verity. It did not occur to him to make further investigation, in the office of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes. If he did think of making further investigation he was given a copy of the census card of the particular allottee in which he was interested. He was told that this was the family card,—he was not told that a member of that same family might be found on 1, 2, 5, 10 or 15 other cards, as the case might be. In fact, no one knew of this in each particular instance. Those familiar with the records knew that members of the same family might appear on different cards, but what cards no one knew.

The records here presented are the first effort at cross-indexing, the purpose being to locate the different members of any particular family. The indexing has been made with great care, and we have not been content with indexing under the name as spelled on the card, but have, in many instances, indexed under two, three and even four different spellings. An examination of the card itself will show the necessity for this. The same names have on these records been spelled many different ways, in fact, in many cases the same name appearing twice on the same card will be spelled differently, and we have sought by this index to cover all such discrepancies, and in cases where doubt may exist, we have indexed so as to cover both ends of the doubt. Where different members of families spell their names differently, we have likewise covered both ways of spelling.

Your index may refer you to a particular card, turning to that card you do not find the name given in the index, if you will look at the card carefully, study it, you will in most instances see the reason for the reference. In some cases this reason is not apparent from the card, but there is a reason, nevertheless, in each case, and cross references of names found on the card will undoubtedly show the reason.

Many believe that the date of enrollment is the date from which you calculate to determine the age of the allottee. In a great many instances this is true, but in many cases this is not true. The law says, that the enrollment record shall govern as to age. The enrollment record may include the testimony taken at the time of enrollment, affidavits, birth certificates, etc. Everyone ought before purchasing, or leasing lands, to secure from the Commissioner a certified copy of the enrollment testimony, if there be any question as to age.

More than one-third of the Creek allottees are dead, at this time: the balance must die. The object of this record is to present to the public a means of determining the heirs. It is a presentation of the material facts which the public should know in order that they may secure further information from the Superintendent's office.

Thousands and thousands of deeds have been placed of record, one might say at ramdom, because of lack of information on the part of those taking the deeds. It is believed that the publication of this record will put a stop to such practise.

The enrollment records are the basis of title of these Indian lands. Judge Sanborn has so declared them to be, and even if he had not so declared, common sense would tell us that they are. These facts should be given the same publicity as other public records. The magnitude of the task has prevented this. The government at some time will make all these records public in some form, but when it does it will be complete, it will not be an abstract such as is given here. Lack of knowledge of these essential facts is almost universal. An instance possibly will show something of this. The compiler of this record prepared a brief in a case, pending in the Supreme Court of Oklahoma, and filed this brief with the court. In this brief was detailed the procedure and manner of work of the Dawes Commission and of its records. One of the justices wrote the writer that he had read the brief and was amazed at the contents. He stated that he had no idea that the facts were such as they were shown to be and added that the public generally were not advised of this, and asked permission to file the original brief in the Historical Library of this State.

The need of such a book as this has been so apparent for years that the writer had in course of preparation a copy for his own use. Other lawyers seeing the work wanted copies, and this was the inspiration for publication. A canvass of the larger cities of the Creek Nation convinced the compiler of the record and index that the public wanted it. After deciding to publish the work it was necessary that all records be gone over carefully again, and compared with the originals in the office of the Superintendent to the Five Civilized Tribes. The work was begun under the administration of Mr. J. George Wright, Commissioner, continued under the administration of Mr

Dana H. Kelsey, Superintendent, and concluded under the administration of Mr. Gabe E. Parker, Superintendent. The writer wishes to thank these several gentlemen for the uniform courtesy extended to him and to Mr. George Bixby, who compiled the original data. Also do I wish to thank the several heads of the Departments, and clerks in charge, for the courtesies extended to me by them. I trust that in no way have I over-stepped the limitations imposed on me.

There are some items of data which I desired to incorporate in this Abstract, but permission to get this data was denied me. I was informed at the time, the reason for denying me, and while, as it was then suggested to me, I might go over their heads and get the information, I had no thought of doing so. I appreciated the position of the department. If it be possible at any near future date to get the dates of selection of allotment, and copies of the annotated Creek rolls, I will do so and have these published and sell at a nominal price to the subscribers of the present work.

It is hoped that the purchasers of this book will familiarize themselves with the plan of work, by careful study of the instructions, which will be inserted hereafter, throughout the book. Unless this be done they will not get the full benefit of the book, and will not see its full value. It is an Abstract of the Creek Indian cards, giving data tending to show the status of the individual citizens, his father and mother. It is not a copy of the card. The index is arranged so as to show the different cards where the name of the citizen and all others of the same family may be found.

The sale of the book will be, of course, limited to a certain class of business men in the Creek Nation, and as the work of preparation is great, and the printing—by reason of its being all tabulated—very expensive, it will be seen that the price is reasonable.

Those who have aided in the preparation of the book for publication, Mr. George Bixby, Miss Maude Miller, Miss Gladys Fearnside and Miss Ostara Bixby, have been careful and painstaking, and I feel that I have been very happy in my choice of assistants. It is too much to hope that we have made no error. We have checked and rechecked and proof-read twice, but even so, with this great mass of tabulated matter, error in some instances may have crept in. At this date we know of no error. It is to be hoped that there is none. We will say, however, that if there is any error in the Abstract and Index it is a trifling error and will mislead no one.

As I have stated more than one-third of the Creeks have now departed this life. I have not been able to show all of these deaths,—the reason being that there is no record of deaths in hundreds of cases in the office of the Superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes, and this true, because there is no necessity for such record. In the early days of the Dawes Commission, and after the allotments of land had begun, proofs of death were taken, but later acts of Congress made the taking of these proofs of death unnecessary, as it provided for the issuance of deeds in every case in the name of the original citizen to whom the allotment was made whether he be living or dead. There was no need of further filing of proofs of death until the present making of the equalization payment. As this payment was to be made only to those whose allotments were of value $800.00, or under, it will be seen that a very large percentage of the Indians did not come under this class, and no proofs of death were taken unless they did come under the class where equalization money was due. I will speak of these proofs of death under another heading and so will make no further reference here.

The law of descent and distribution relative to these allotted lands of the Creeks presents possibly the most complicated system of descent and distribution in history. I have thought best to set forth these laws of descent and distribution. I have my own opinion as to the effect of some of these laws, but will make no comment. I realize that descent and distribution is to be the law of the future of this eastern half of the State, and the lawyer who is well equipped to take care of that business will have all that he can do. I have said that our laws of descent and distribution are complicated. Much of this complication arises by reason of the many changes in the law. The law of the date of selection governs, providing the citizen be dead when the land is selected in allotment. In such case the heirs are identified as of the date of the death of the allottee, under the law of the date of selection.

J. B. CAMPBELL,

Muskogee, Oklahoma, April 3, 1915.

EXPLANATORY OF THE ABSTRACT.

Our canvas for the sale of this Abstract and Index showed such woeful lack of information on the part of the public generally, of the records in the office of the Superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes, at Muskogee, Oklahoma, that when we presented our copy it was as "Greek" to them. This lack of knowledge was not universal, but we were surprised to find to what extent it was true. Therefore, in explaining our record we must go to every detail, and will ask those who read this detailed explanation to open the book at any card they may choose and read this text in connection with that card, in order that they may fully understand it. If they once understand our plan they will have no trouble thereafter.

The first, or title line, to each card shows that it is a Creek Indian, (not freedman) card. The number of this card is given, after which follows the last known post office address of the enrolled citizen. Then follows the date or dates of enrollment. Suppose we had six persons enrolled on any particular card, and the first four of these enrolled citizens were enrolled in the month of August, 1898, the fifth enrolled on the card was enrolled July 1, 1900, and the sixth was enrolled June 24, 1904. Unless it be more specifically noted on the card these entries will be made as follows:

Enrolled August 1898; No. 5 July 1, 1900; No. 6 June 24, 1904.

It will be noted that under the first date we include the enrollment of all these citizens, who are not specifically numbered, such as Nos. 5 and 6 in this particular instance. Note also that the enrollment date is in the "title line" and not at the lower right hand corner of the card as on the original card in the office of the Superintendent.

Now taking up the tabulated matter in detail:

(1) The first column is under the heading "Roll No." This needs no explanation except to say that it is the roll number of the enrolled citizen whose name is found under the heading "name" later, on the same line. This roll number will be the roll number given in the roll book, published by the Department of the Interior.

(2) The next column is under the heading "No." and under this is given the number of those as they appear on the card. It has no other significance. It is used simply for certainty in future reference. Wherever the enrolled citizen whose name follows this number is referred to the number in front of his name is used, and not his name. Brevity was not the only reason for using the numbers, instead of the name. It may be that there will be two enrolled citizens on the same card, having the same name, and if we used the name it would lead to uncertainty. Therefore, we use the numbers. Its use may be explained as follows. Suppose we had three citizens on the card as follows:

No. 1. Smith, John
No. 2. Smith, Martha
No. 3. Smith, John

Suppose that the John Smith first named was the father of the John Smith last named. In the columns under the heading "Name of father" on the same line where the name of the second John Smith appears we write No. 1, thus meaning that John Smith, who appears after No. 1 on this card, is the father of John Smith whose name appears after No. 3 on this card. Again, in the notations at the bottom of the card you will see "No. 1 died January 14, 1913," "No. 3 died August 6, 1904." By using the numbers we make our references certain, and you know at once which John Smith died on January 14, 1913, and which died in August 1904.

(3) Under the heading "Name" we give the name of the enrolled citizen, whose roll number appears in the column under the heading "Roll No."

(4) Next follows the columns under the headings "age" "sex" and "blood," and these we think need no explanation. This refers to the age, sex and blood of the citizen whose name immediately precedes these notations. The ages given are the ages shown by the census cards in the office of the Superintendent—not the ages at the time of the preparation of this Abstract.

(5) Above the next column is the heading "Rel." This abbreviation is for "relationship to No. 1 on the card." The first citizen enrolled on the card is usually the head of the family. There is usually no notation in this column after his name. The names of those enrolled, and which follow his enrollment, and who are on this card are, as a usual thing, related to him in some way, and this relationship is noted in this column. Thus, if "No. 2" on the card be the wife of "No. 1" then in this column will be the abbreviation "Wf," if "No. 3" be the daughter of "No. 1", then the letter "D" will appear in this column, if a son, then the letter "S'', and here we use "StS" for step-son, "SD" for step-daughter, "GD" for granddaughter, "GS" for grandson, "Neph" for nephew, and niece, ward, etc. We think with this explanation no one will have trouble in determining the relationship of those on the card, as shown in this column.

(6) Under the heading "Name of Father" is found the name of the father of the enrolled citizen. This enrolled citizen being the one whose name appears on this same line on the card. Remember names of the enrolled citizens appear only in the column under the heading "Name." The father and mother may, or may not, be enrolled citizens. If they are enrolled their names will be found in the column under the heading "Name." What has been said here of the names appearing under the heading "Name of Father" is also true of the names found under the heading "Name of Mother". If the father or mother be enrolled their names may or may not appear on the card, as enrolled citizens, with their child.

(7) After the names of father and mother will be found columns headed "living" and "citizen." We now take up these two headings and ask that you carefully note what they say.

(a) "Living." Under this heading we show whether or not the parent was living at the time his, or her, child, the citizen, was emrolled. If the parent was living at that time the letter "L" will be found under this column heading. If the parent was dead at that time the letter "D", meaning dead, will be found in this column. On the original cards in the office of the Superintendant if the father or mother be living, or if there be any doubt of his or her death, than this column was left blank. We have made no changes in the notations of death as noted on the original cards. We have, however, added the notation as to the living and in doing so have used the knowledge gained by our continued working at the cards and have noted those whom we believe to be dead with a question mark thus (?)

(b) "Citizen." Under this column we note whether or not the particular parent was a member of the Creek Nation of Indians. If the parent was a member of the Creek Nation of Indians then the letters "Cr" is found under this column heading. If, however, the parent was not a member of the Creek Nation of Indians, then in this column will be found such notation as this,— "Non", meaning non-citizen; "Chick," meaning Chickasaw, "Choc," meaning Choctaw, "Cher" meaning Cherokee, "Sem" meaning Seminole, etc. On the original cards no notation was made in this column in a vast proportion of instances. We have studied the cards and the cross references and have given the result of the examination. In doing so we adopted certain rules such as the following:

(1) If the child was of Creek blood greater than a half blood, then of course both parents must have Creek blood.

(2) If one of the parents was enrolled as of a certain quantum of Indian blood and the other parent not enrolled and the child was noted as having Indian blood just half of the amount of the enrolled parent, then we noted the other parent as a non-citizen.

(3) Our acquaintance is large and we knew personally the status of many.

(4) By reference to other cards. There were many of whom we could not be certain and we noted these with a question mark thus (?).

(8) The notations at the bottom of each card need little explanation, when it is remembered that the numbers there used, such as No. 1 and No. 3, etc., mean the enrolled citizens, whose names are found after the numbers 1 and 3, as these numbers are used in the second column of tabulated matter on the card.

(9) The making of the Abstract of the New-Born and Minor Creek cards is somewhat different from that used for the Abstract of the original Creek cards. The cards themselves were different and this necessitated a different Abstract. An explanatory note will precede the New Born and Minor Creek cards.

(10) The Index to follow the record itself will be preceded by an explanatory note thereto. Everyone should carefully read and thoroughly understand the explanatory notes, which appear in this record and index. If they do not fully familiarize themselves with the manner of making this Abstract, and what each notation means much of the value of the book will be lost to them.

In the making of the Abstract and Index we made notes of matters which we believed would aid those in examining the cards in difficult cases. Though many of these "Helps" have been noted in the preface and the explanatory notes, we have made note of the following:

(1) During the year 1914 Congress admitted sixty-two persons to citizenship in the Creek Nation. These have no allotments. In making census cards for these newly admitted citizens, in the office of the Superintendent to the Five Civilized Tribes, they were given roll numbers beginning with the next number after the last originally enrolled Creek. By an error duplication was the result in numbering the cards. You will note by an examination of the Creek Rolls, published by the Department that in the last few numbers the card numbers are not in consecutive order. As a result the last enrollment number 1 0181 is not on the highest numbered census card. In the making of these new cards for those whom we have designated "Congressional Enrollments" the numbers of the cards from 4015 to 4026 have been duplicated. To avoid uncertainity we have put the letter "CE" in front of the numbers in the Index, when reference is made to one of these Congressional Enrollment Cards.

(2) In searching the Index for any name look under the different spellings of the name, as Deer-Deere, Kernall-Kernal-Kernel, Heneha-Henneha-Hennehah-Henehar-Hinneha, Mahala-Maholey-Mahole-Meholi.

(3) In looking for an Indian name and finding it, then look back for a few names and also forward. The index is so arranged that if the name is misspelled you will often catch it near to where it should be if spelled correctly. Different clerks spelled the names differently in preparing the cards, but even at that the two spellings ought to be close together. Where we have been able to determine that these two spellings refer to one and the same person we have cross indexed, but have not been able in every case to so determine.

(4) The Index may refer you to a card where you do not find the name. If the card itself does not show why the reference was made look up the cross reference to other names on the card and this will make the reference clear.

(5) We have tried to make reference to Freedmen cards, but in all cases could not do so as we could not get sufficient data.

(6) From our investigation we believe that fully two-fifths of the Creek allottees are dead. We have worked diligently to show the dead. Only a part of this data was on the census cards and the balance scattered throughout the various divisions of the Superintendent's office. We show about 3300. We could not show all, for the reason that the Superintendent has no record of them.

In noting the dead in some cases the dates of death are given and in others they are simply "reported dead." In those cases where the data of death is given, proofs of death are on file in the office of the Superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes. In some cases where the dates are not given proofs are on file, but the proofs do not show the date of death. For those who are noted "reported dead" we secured our information from the Creek Indian ledger, but this did not give the date of death. In many other instances we knew from our personal knowledge that the allottee was dead and have noted these "reported dead." In many cases several proofs of death of any particular allottee are on file, in the office of the Superintendent, and these show different dates, varying in some instances from one to ten years in the date of death. We have selected only one date, taking the proof which we deemed most trustworthy, but, as a matter of fact these proofs of death are not reliable in arriving at the true date, nor are they reliable in naming the surviving relatives and heirs at law. It is always well to send for a certified copy of one of these proofs of death, if you are interested, but do not rely on it.

(7) The different laws of descent and distribution applicable at any time to these Creek allottees will be inserted in the back of the book as a sort of an appendix. They will be arranged in chronological order, and in connection therewith will be notes explanatory thereof. We have tried, however,to avoid any expression of opinion as to the effect of any or all of these laws.

OF

NEW BORN CREEK CENSUS CARDS

Enrolled under Act of March 3, 1905

In the preparation of these New Born and Minor Creek rolls the Dawes Commission used a card somewhat different from the card used in making the original roll, and in this Abstract I have omitted three of the column headings which I used in the Abstract of the original cards, to-wit:—I have omitted the column under the heading "Relationship to No. 1." This because of the fact that all of the citizens enrolled on these two rolls are children born since April 1st, 1899, and their parents and older brothers and sisters would not appear on this roll.

I have omitted also the column under the heading "Living" after the name of the father. Also the column under the heading "Living" after the name of the mother. In place of these two columns I have added two others. Under the column heading in each case "Roll No." This means that in these columns will be given the "Roll No." of the father, or of the mother, in case either be an enrolled citizen of the Creek Nation of Indians.

It is possibly true that some who are enrolled as Creek citizens have not a roll number in these columns, if so, we have been unable to so identify them, and the records in the office of the Superintendent does not enlighten us.

You will also note another change in these cards, in this, where the date of enrollment is given on the preceeding cards the date of birth of the citizen is given on the following New Born and Minor Creek Cards.

In other particulars the explanations given preceeding the Abstract of the original cards are applicable to these cards.

The New Borns and Minors which are enrolled on the two following rolls do not participate in the Creek Equalization payment, therefor, no proofs of death are now being taken of those dead, and as a result we note only those shown to be dead by the Census Cards.

KEY TO INDEX

The following index includes the names of the father and mother, as well as the name of the enrolled citizen. It is arranged alphabetically, both as to the sir and christian names. We have been very careful in its preparation and have spent months in an effort to make it as complete and useful as possible. We do not expect that it, in connection with the Abstract, will answer all questions in every case. It will however be a very great help to those who will make a proper use of it, and use it in difficult cases in connection with information received outside the record.

Many of the Indians have more than one name. They have their family name, sometimes a school name, which is different and also a bust name. We have knowledge only of the names written on the Census Cards, and such names we have used in our Index, however when we could determine that different spelling of a name stood for the same person we have cross indexed.

In the preparation of the enrollment records different clerks, in the office of the Dawes Commission, took testimony for the record. As the Indian names were pronounced to these clerks, the clerks on hearing the names, and hearing different pronunciations, spelled the names differently, and this different spelling is carried on the cards, in fact, it is common for the same name to appear on the same card twice, and both times under a different spelling. Again, the same name may appear on several cards and the spelling in each case be different. We remember one case where the name of a father was on five cards, and no two instances was the spelling similar, yet we have attempted to overcome this and by our system of cross indexing refer you to all cards where the name of the party you are looking up appears. We realize that we have not been enabled to do this in every case. This would be an impossibility, but we do know that in thousands of cases we have been able to make these citations which will be of great help to you.

In making your investigation of the record you will undoubtedly find many "leads." If you will take these "leads" with the information secured outside of the record, and turn to the index and run them down you will undoubtedly secure that which will make the relationship clear to you. This Abstract and Index is a help and not a cure-all.

We note the following instructions and aids in using the index.

(1) All numbers not prefixed are citations to card numbers and the card numbers are those first following a name, and shows the name on the census card prepared under the Original Creek Agreement. The prefix NB refers you to New Born Creek Roll Number. The prefix M refers you to Minor Creek Roll Number. C. E. refers you to Congressional Enrollment Creek Census card numbers. Note that the citations to the original cards and to the Congressional Enrollment cards are to card numbers, and the New Born and Minor Creek citations are to roll numbers. This was necessary because of the fact that the New Born and Minor Creek card numbers were not in order.

(2) If you are cited to a card and on turning to that card do not find the name, do not conclude that the citation is an error. It is not. Why we made the citation we have not stated, but, we have made no citations unless there was some reason for it, or we believed that there was some reason for it. If in such cases you will run down the different names on the card referred to you will undoubtedly see our reason.

(3) Examine the Index under every conceivable spelling that the name may have. It may be indexed under "K" or it may be under "C". Not only is this true of the first letter but of the entire spelling of the name.

(4) In case of an odd Indian name examine a few names just preceeding the place where you think the name ought to be, and also look at a few of the succeeding names. The name may not be just what you think it is, but you will undoubtedly recognize it if you see it and on turning to the card the information there given will undoubtedly show whether or not you have found the name of the party, or parties, desired.

(5) In making an investigation as to the members of any particular family you have more or less information to start with. Use this information with your Abstract and Index. Make this Abstract and Index valuable to you. It will be so in proportion to your intelligent use of it.

APPENDIX A
THE DAWES COMMISSION RECORDS

Comparatively few people have any idea of the magnitude of the records of the Dawes Commission. Beginning at an early date after its creation the Dawes Commission began the work of securing data relative to the status of claimants for membership as citizens of the Five Civilized Tribes, together with the value of the land and the improvements thereon. The census cards, later enrollment, and the patents to the individual members was the sequel of this work.

The Commission first began to enroll members of the Creek Tribe of Indians, and its procedure was not systematized to the extent adopted when the work of enrollment of the other Tribes began. As a result in a very large percentage of the Creek enrollment cases we find no record or transcript of the testimony adduced before the Commission, as a basis for enrollment. Testimony was taken, before the Commission, in every case, but this testimony was not transcribed and kept in the files, and as a result there is now no record of it. However, in a large number of cases, and in all contested enrollment cases the testimony was transcribed, and a copy of the same may now be found in the enrollment jackets.

Persons seeking to buy, or lease, allotted lands in any of the Five Nations should see to it that there is presented to them with the abstract of title a certified copy of the census card, a certified allottment plat, and, in case there be any doubt as to the age of the allottee, a certified copy of the enrollment record, or so much thereof as tends to show the age of the allottee. You will note that in this last statement we suggest that you secure "So much of the enrollment record as tends to show the age of the allottee." We say this for the reason that in many instances the enrollment records cover hundreds of pages of testimony, possibly only three or four pages of which or three or four lines of which show anything tending to fix the age. It would be useless for you to secure the entire record, and it would work a great harship on you, not only in original cost, but in having it inserted in any court record, and paying for copies thereof thereafter in a case-made on appeal. In a very large percentage of cases you had best get the entire record, but there are cases in which you should make your order specific and request only such parts of this record as tends to show the age of the citizen whose age you are seeking to know. In such cases as these last referred to the office of the Superintendent will undoubtedly charge an additional fee for making the investigation and culling out from the record and evidence in the office such portions as will tend to show the age of the particular allottee. This matter, however, should first be taken up with the Superintendent. Remember this, always, that the ages given on the census cards are not to be taken as a verity. The law says that the "enrollment record" is the evidence of the age and you must get this from the office of the Superintendent to the Five Civilized Tribes. You can get it no where else.

It is interesting to know that in the making of these enrollments and allotment records the Dawes Commission went over Indian Territory with a fine-tooth comb and gradually gathered in all letters, bills of sale, notes, mortgages, birth affidavits, death affidavits, marriage licenses, marriage certificates, and other such data, and these are now on file in the office of the Commission, and are attached as Exhibits to the record, in enrollment and allotment contest cases. The purpose of this was to show the status of the citizen or land he was seeking to allot. In certain cases it may be necessary for you to search back through these old records, but such cases will be rare. This search must be made by some one of the office force and on proper request and proper showing of reasons for wanting the search made, the Superintendent will detail some one familiar with the files to make the search and you can then purchase such certified copies as you desire.

An idea of the cost of certified copies may be seen from the following:

Act of Congress April 28, 1904 (33 Stat. L. 573)

(6) Mansfield's Digest of Statues of Arkansas for the year 1884.

1. Sec. 2522—When any person shall die, having title to any real estate of inheritance, or personal estate, (b), not disposed of, nor otherwise limited by marriage settlement, and shall be intestate as to such estate, it shall descend and be distributed, in parcency, to his kindred, male and female, subject to the payment of his debts and the widow's dower, in the following manner:

First—To children, or their descendents, in equal parts.

Second—If there be no children, then to the father, then to the mother; if no mother, then to brothers and sisters, or their descendant, in equal parts.

Third—If there be no children, nor their descendants, father, mother, brothers or sisters, nor their descendants, then to the grandfather, grandmother, uncles and aunts, and their descendants, in equal parts, and so in other cases, without end, passing to the nearest lineal ancestor and their children and their descendants, in equal parts.

2. Sec. 2523—Posthumous children of the intestate shall inherit in like manner as if born in the life-time of the intestate, but no right of inheritance shall accrue to any person other than the children of the intestate, unless they be born at the time of the intestate's death.
3. Sec. 2524—Illegitimate children shall be capable of inheriting and transmitting an inheritance, on the part of their mother, in like manner as if they had been legitimate of their mother (c).
4. Sec. 2525—If a man have by a woman a child, or children, and afterward shall intermarry with her and shall recognize such children to be his, they shall be deemed and considered as legitimate.
5. Sec. 2526—The issue of all marriages deemed null in law, or dissolved by divorce, shall be deemed and considered as legitimate.
6. Sec. 2527—In making title by descent, it shall be no bar to a demandant that any ancestor through whom he derives his descent from the intestate is, or has been, an alien.
7. Sec. 2528.—If there be no children, or their descendants, father, mother not their descendants, or any paternal or maternal kindred capable of inheritance, the share shall go to the wife or husband of the intestate. If there be no such wife or husband, then the estate shall go to the state.
8. Sec. 2529—If any of the children of an intestate be living, and some be dead, the inheritance shall descend to the children who are living, and to the descendants of such children as shall have died, so that each child who shall be living shall inherit such share as would have descended to him if all the children of the intestate who shall have died leaving issue had been living, so that the descendants of each child who shall be dead shall inherit the same their parent would have received if living.
9. Sec. 2530—The rule of descent prescribed in the last preceding section shall apply in every case where the descendants of the intestate, entitled to share in the inheritance, shall be in equal degree of consanguinity to the intestate, so that those who are in the nearest degree of consanguinity shall take the shares which would have descended to them had all the decendants in the same degree who shall have died leaving issue been living, so that the issue of the descendants who shall have died shall respectively take the shares which their parents, if living, would have received.
10. Sec. 2531—In cases where the intestate shall die without descendants, if the estate come by the father, then it shall ascend to the father and his heirs; if by the mother, the estate, or so much thereof as came by the mother, shall ascend to the mother and her heirs; but if the estate be a new acquisition it shall ascend to the father for his life-time, and then descend, in remainder, to the collateral kindred of the intestate in the manner provided in this act; and, in default of a father, then to the mother, for her life-time then descend to the collateral heirs as before provided (d).

11. Sec. 2532—The estate of an intestate, in default of a father and mother shall go, first, to the brothers and sisters, and their descendants, of the father; next, to the brothers and sisters, and their descendants, of the mother. This provision applies only where there are no kindred, either lineal or collateral, who stand in a nearer relation.
12. Sec. 2533—Relations of the half-blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree; and the descendants of such relatives shall inherit in the same manner as the descendants of the whole blood, unless the inheritance come to the intestate by descent, devise, or gift, of some one of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestor shall be excluded from such inheritance.
13. Sec. 2534—In all cases not provided for by this act, the inheritance shall descend according to the course of the common law.
14. Sec. 2535—Whenever an inheritance, or a share of an inheritance, shall descend to several persons, under the provisions of this act, they shall inherit as tenants in common, in proportion to their respective shares or rights.

ADVANCEMENT

15. Sec. 2536—If any child of an intestate shall have been advanced by him in his life-time, by settlement or portion of real or personal estate, or both of them,the value thereof shall be reckoned, for the purpose of this section, only as a part of the real and personal estate of such intestate descendible to the heirs and to be distributed to his next kin, according to law; and, if such advancement be equal or superior to the amount of the share which such child would be entitled to receive of the real and personal estate of the deceased, as herein reckoned, then such child and his descendants shall be excluded from any share of the real and personal estate of the intestate.
16. Sec. 2537—In cases where such advancement is not equal to the share that such child or relative, and his descendants, shall be entitled to receive, they shall be entitled to receive so much of the real and personal estate as shall be sufficient to make all the shares of the heirs in such real and personal estate and advancement to be as nearly equal as possible.
17. Sec. 2538—The value of any real or personal estate so advanced shall be deemed to be that, if any, which was acknowledged by the person receiving the same by any receipt, in writing, specifying the value; if no such written evidence exists, then such value shall be estimated according to its value at the time of advancing such money or property.
18. Sec. 2539—The maintaining, educating or giving money to a child or heir, without a view to a portion or settlement in life, shall not be an advancement within the meaning of this act.

CONSTRUCTIONS

19. Sec. 2540—The term "real estate," as used in this act, shall be construed to include every estate, interest and right, legal and equitable, in lands, tenements and hereditaments, except such as are determined or extinguished by the death of the intestate, seized or possessed thereof in any manner, other than by lease for years and estate for the life of another person.
20. Sec. 2541—The term "inheritance" as used in this act, shall be understood to mean real estate, as herein defined, descended according to the provisions of this act.
21. Sec. 2542—Whenever, in any part of this act, any person is described as living, it shall be understood that he was living at the time of the death of the intestate from whom the descent came; and, when any person is described as having died, it shall be understood that he died before the intestate.

22. Sec. 2543—The expression used in this act, "where the estate shall have come to the intestate on the part of the father," or "mother," as the case may be, shall be construed to include every case where the inheritance shall have come to the intestate by gift, devise or descent from the parent referred, to or from any relative of the blood of such parent. Rev. Stat. Chap. 49."

You will note that I have added numbers 1 to 22 in front of the sections of the Arkansas Law set forth above. I have done so in order to make clear that which follows. The Arkansas law of descent and distribution was construed as a whole by the Supreme Court of the State of Arkansas, in the case of Kelly vs. McGuire, 15 Ark. 555. The holdings of the court in the case of Kelly vs. McGuire had become rules of property before the Arkansas law was extended over and put in force in the Indian Territory. The writer of the opinion in this case was an eminent lawyer of Arkansas and was called in and made a special Justice of the Supreme Court and took a great deal of time in research and investigation before writing the opinion, and that part of his opinion that deals with real property is as follows:

"Whatever may have been the original foundation of the right of property, it admits of no question that its protection, in some shape, is engrafted into the jurisprudence of every civilized nation. In most of them, it constitutes an important feature of their organic law. No government ,however, powerful, and whether free or despotic, could long command the affections and allegiance of its members, or preserve the order and tranquility of civil society, without respecting and securing this right, and affording adequate redress for its violation.

The transmission of property, whether, by descent succession, or purchase, depends upon the municipal regulations of each State, and no duty more delicate can be imposed on courts of justice, than to pass upon and enforce regulations. It is for the judiciary to construe, not legislate; and when the real intention of the law maker is ascertained, it must be declared, regardless of consequences. If cases are omitted, which ought to have been included, or hardships arise not foreseen, the remedy for the evil rests in the wisdom and discretion of another department. For us, it is sufficient to know, ita lex scripta.

This voluminous, and really difficult case, involves the construction of our statute of Descents—presenting questions not hitherto decided in our courts, and we can safely affirme, that they have been examined with care, diligence and patience. We have to thank the respective counsel for this very able argument in the case.

The facts, as far as they have a bearing on the present branch of the subject, are, that, about the year 1810, Charles Kelly emigrated to what is now Arkansas; and, in 1815, married Mrs. Craig, a widow, who had two daughters by a former marriage, named Elizabeth and Emeline. Charles Kelly, an enterprising, shrewd business man, aided by the prudence, skill and good management of his wife, accumulated in Arkansas, where he lived, a large estate, consisting of real and personal property. He died intestate in 1834, and, by the law in force, his real estate, descended, and his personal property was distributed to James DeWitt Clinton Kelly, who was the only surviving issue of the marriage with Mrs. Craig. She died in 1836, and the son above mentioned called, for brevity, Clinton Kelly, died intestate in Arkansas, the place of his domicil, in 1844, at the age of seventeen years, without having married and without issue, leaving as claimants for his property, his paternal grandfather, Greenberry Kelly, the descendants of Mary Eikelburner, his paternal aunt, and his two sisters of the half-blood, Elizabeth and Emeline; the first of whom is the present Mrs. Marsh, and the second Mrs. McGuire.

The half-blood claim the entire estate of Clinton Kelly, real and personal, as his next of kin, and to the exclusion of all other persons.

We shall say nothing, at present, of Greenberry Kelly, or the Eikelburner heirs; because, if the pretentions of the half-blood to the whole, realty and personalty, should prove to be well founded, it would be an useless enquiry.

To form a new system of descents, will always be found a work of difficulty. Human wisdom is inadequate to making out and establishing a perfect one at once. It is quite impossible to foresee all the consequences of an attempt so important, extensive and ramified. Omissions and imperfections, however, as they are discovered, must be supplied and remedied by subsequent laws.

Excepting the first section, and some minor provisions, our statute of descents was borrowed from one in New York, but with additions not calculated to improve, and with attempts at brevity and perspicuity, neither happy or successful. The original was, what it purported, and was intended to be, a pure statute of descents, using appropriate techinical terms, regularing the inheritance of real estate, and not looking to the distribution of personal property at all. 2 Rev. Statutes New York, 750; Digest 436.

The first section of ours was extracted from some other statute of descents, amended by the revisors, by the interpolation of so much as relates to the distribution of personal estate; thus blending two subjects of a totally different nature, and governed by totally different rules. And it is this, which produces no small degree of difficulty in our system. We must, however, apply to it that universal rule of construction, that a statute should be so considered as that every clause, sentence, or part, shall stand, if possible; or, in other words, such construction as will best answer the intention of the makers. 9 Bac. Abr., Statute J. 2, J. 5. General words or clauses in a statute, may be restrained by particular words, or clauses in the same statute. And when one section in a statute may be both general and particular, or where there are different provisions for different purposes, and penned in different words, in the same chapter, they ought to be so construed as to avoid inconsistency. Id. Campbell's case, 2 Bland. 209. The application of these rules to the case in hand, will be readily perceived.

The 1st section is general and comprehensive, embracing all lands, whether ancestral or newly acquired, subject to certain exceptions and qualifications hereafter more particularly noticed, and these exceptions refer to real estate alone. This section also constitutes the table, by which real estate is to descend and personal property distributed. As, by its express language, it relates to both real and personal property, it was manifestly the design of the Legislature, when there were descendants of the intestate, to send down both to them per capita, if in equal degree, and per stirpes, if in unequal degree, without any regard to the fact as to how the property had been acquired. And as to personal property, where there are no descendants of the intestate to distribute it to, collaterals will take in the same way as descendants, if there had been any; that is to say without any inquiry as to how it was acquired, and, per capita, if in equal degree, and per stirpes, if in unequal degree. This was manifestly the design of the Legislature. The sections of the statute which have reference to both real and personal property, and expressly name or allude to both, or embrace them in their spirit, are the 1st, 4th, 5th, 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th. The 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th, touch to subject of advancement. And, to attain the object in view, it was necessary to blend real and personal property together; because the amount received is the inquiry; and whether in land or personal property, produces the same result.

It may not be unworthy of remark, that neither is the 1st, 4th, 5th, nor in these sections, is the technical term "inheritance," used at all.

The 1st, 4th, 5th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th sections, are the only ones designed, in our opinion to apply to both real and personal estate. All the rest embrace real estate alone.

The effect of the 1st section is, to constitute the persons, who take the personal property, whether per capita, or per stirpes, and whether the whole or half-blood, the absolute owners. Nor is it material whether those persons are of the paternal or maternal or the lineal or collateral line. By that section, as already remarked, real and personal estate goes in the same channel, and if no subsequent provisions had been introduced, touching real estate, the precise bearing of which, it is probable the rivers did not perceive, our labors would have been comparatively easy. At present, nothing further need be said as to personal property, as we shall find it necessary to allude to that hereafter, and shall now speak in reference to real estate.

The effect of the first section, subject to the exceptions and qualifications alluded to, is to vest an absolute estate of inheritance in lands in the person who takes. And every estate, interest and right, legal and equitable, in lands and tenements and hereditaments, excepting only leases for years, and estate for the life of another person, are thus inheritable and descendable; or, as the first section expresses it, "having title to any real estate of inheritance" constitutes an inheritable estate, thus abolishing the common law doctrine, derived from feudal times, of actual seizin in the ancestor. Whoever claimed by descent, was bound to show that he was heir to the first purchaser; and the seizin of the last possessor, from whom he claimed as heir, was considered as presumptive evidence of his being of the blood of the first purchaser. It supplied the difficulty of investigating a descent from a distant stock, through a line of succession become dim by the lapse of ages. 4 Kent 386.

But, with us ownership, or title to property, is substituted for seizin; and maxim seisina facit stipitem, of such controlling consequence in the English scheme of descents, is entirely superseded. By descent or hereditary succession, it is understood the title whereby a person, upon the death of his ancestor, acquires the estate of the latter as his heir at law. 3 Bac. Abr. Descent 104.

We pass now to the more particular consideration of the 10th section.

The manifest intention of the first part of this section, was to preserve ancestral estate in the line of the blood from whence they came. It was a partial adoption of recognition of the common law principle, which invariably followed the line of the blood, If the estate comes to the intestate by the father, or as it may be differently, and as well expressed, on the part of the father, then it must ascend to the father and his heirs, and thus overturning the inflexible rule of the common law, that an estate could never ascend; but should rather escheat to the lord. And so, if it comes by or on the part of the mother, it goes to the mother and her heirs, in exclusion of the heirs of the father. In other words, it remains in the paternal or maternal line, from whence it was derived.

The expressions, "come by the father," or "mother" or on "the part of the father" or "mother" mean the same thing. Maffit v. Clark, 6 Watts & Serg, 260. They are familiar to, and derived from the common law, having an appropriate, technical meaning, which we must suppose the Legislature intended to adopt. They embrace not only the father, but all of the ancestors of the father, both paternal and maternal. Co. Litt. 12 a. Whenever, says Lord Coke, lands do descend from the part of the mother, the heirs of the part of the father shall never inherit. And, likewise, when lands descend from the part of the father, the heirs of the part of the mother shall never inherit. Co. Litt. 13a.

The 10th and 22nd sections must be construed together, although the exact expressions used in the latter, are not contained in any part of the statute. But words of equivalent signification, are employed, and they are embraced within the spirit of the 22nd section. Any other exposition would render the section entirely nugatory; and we must so construe statutes as that every part may have its proper effect, if possible.

The expression, then, "come by the father, or mother," is is not limited to an estate acquired by descent merely, but includes an estate which comes to the intestate by gift, devise or descent from the parent referred to, or from any relation of the blood of such parent. Such is the letter and spirit of the statute. In other words, there are two classes of cases provided for: One, where the blood of the person, from whom the estate came, whether it be by descent, devise or gift, is regarded; and the other, where the blood of the intestate forms the stirps, or stock of descent, without respect to ancestral blood.

Chancellor Kent says there is a difference in the laws of the several states, between the succession to estates, which the intestate had acquired in the course of descent, or by purchase. "If the inheritance," says he, "was ancestral, and came to the intestate by gift, devise or descent, it passes to the kindred, who are of the blood of the ancestor from whom it came, whether in the paternal or maternal line." 4 Kent 404.

The portion of the 10th section, as to new acquisitions, gives the father and mother a life estate only, with remainder to the colateral heirs of the intestate: such as brothers and sisters, and their descendants, and so on. A new acquisition, or newly acquired estate,does not afford of itself, an exact idea if the mode of acquisition. By the common law, there were two modes of acquiring an estate, distinguished by the general appellations of descent and purchase. In the first, it was by operation of law; and in the second, by act or agreement of parties. Devises and gifts fall in the latter class. An estate by purchase there became inheritable to the heirs general of the purchaser, first of the paternal, and then of the maternal line. 2 Bl. Com. 243.

It must be understood, however, that a new acquisition, in the sense intended by the statute, is one which the intestate has acquired by his exertions and industry. (Brewster v. Benedict, 14 Ohio 385), or by will or deed from a stranger. In other words, it is an estate derived from any source other than descent, devise or gift, from father or mother, or any relative in the paternal or maternal line. Butler v. King. 2 Yerg. 116.

If the son should purchase land from the father or mother, for a valuable consideration, it would be a new acquisition, and descend as such; because nothing is received by way of bounty at the hands of ancestors, which is the case as to lands descended from, or devised, or given by them to the intestate, and it was thought reasonable that they should remain in the blood from which they came.

Land is to be considered as having come from, or by, or on the part of the father or mother, when it comes by gift, devise or descent, either mediately or immediateiy from them, or from any person in their respective lines. Shippen v. Isard, 1 Serg. & Rawle, 223.

The 12th section provides that, "relations of the half-blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole-blood, in the same degree, and the descendants of such relatives shall inherit in the same manner as descendants of the whole-blood, unless the inheritance come to the intestate by descent, devise or gift of some one of his ancestors, in which case, all those who are not of the blood of such ancestor, shall be excluded from such inheritance.

It has been contended, with much ability and inguenity, that the restriction in the latter clause of the section applies to the descendants of the half-blood only, and that in such is the grammatical and logical construction.

But we are unable to subscribe to this argument. It would be unsafe to construe a statute according to mere grammatical rules,or to rely on punctuation as any material aid in ascertaining the true meaning. Neither bad grammer nor bad English,will vitiate a statute any more than a deed. It is well known that ancient statutes were without sections or punctuation, and hence the reasonable and universal rule that the sense must be collected from the whole set.

It is the clear that the meaning and intention of this section was to prohibit the half-blood, and their descendants alike, from sharing in the inheritance of an estate which might come to the intestate by descent, devise or gift from an ancestor, in all cases where they were not of the blood of such ancestor. The reason for excluding the half blood is just as strong as for excluding their descendants, and it is impossible to conceive any well founded distinction between the two. And whatever opinion we might entertain as to the hardships of such a rule in any given case, or as to the impolicy of establishing lines of blood at all, in a new country, where almost every man is the architect of his own fortune and the stock of descent; yet the Legislature has spoken its will; the language is too plain to be doubted, and addresses a prohibition to the courts not to be disregarded or evaded.

The half-blood are exclused from inheritances, and they and their descendants may inherit even an ancestral estate, provided they can show they are of the blood of the ancestor from whom it was transmitted to the intestate. Gardner v. Collins, 2 Peters 58. In newly acquired estates they inherit equally with the whole-blood in the same degree.

Hilliard, in his Treatise on Real Property (vol. 5,207) says; "In Arkansas, if there are no descendants, and the estate came from the father, it passes to him and his heirs. The haif-blood and descendants inherit unless the estate is ancestral, in which case, none inherit but those of the ancestral blood."

The word "blood," in its technical and natural sense, includes the half-blood. Baker v. Chalfant, 5 Wharton 477. In a note in the last edition of his commentaries, Kent says: "The words in the laws of the several States, regulating the descent of ancestral inheritances, require that the heir should be of the blood of the ancestor. This would, in the ordinary sense of the words, admit the half-blood for they may be of the blood of the ancestor, though only half-blood to the intestate." The 12th section of our statute is an exact transcript of the 15th section of the New York Revised Statutes, and, in considering that section, he further said that, not being of the blood of the ancestor, was the only ground on which the half-blood was excluded from ancestral inheritances. 4 Kent 404, note b., and authorities there cited.

In Torrey vs. Shaw, 3 Edw. Ch. R. 362, the Vice Chancellor, in commenting on a similar provision, observed that here is an exclusion as well where property comes by devise or gift-each of which is a species of purchase-as where it comes by descent, unless the parties claiming be of the blood of the donor. This proceeds, said he, upon the principle that the blood of the ancestor is necessary to enable collateral relations to take, where the property came from an ancestor by either of the modes of transmission spoken of.

In Dew v. Jones, 3 Halstead 340, the half-blood of the person dying seized, was held entitled to inherit an ancestral estate, because he was of the half-blood to the person dying seized, as well as of the blood of the ancestor from whom the lands came.

Our statute provides for ancestral and newly-acquired inheritances. The half-blood may inherit both, and will be excluded from the first only when lacking ancestral blood. With that exception, the half-blood and descendants, stand upon the same footing with the whole-blood and descendants.

After carefully considering each of the provisions of the statute, and all together as a whole, we have come to the following conclusions:

1st. That, as to both real and personal property, it was the design of the Legislature, when there were descendants of the intestate, to send down both to them, per capita, if in equal degree, and per stirpes, if in unequal degree, without any regard to the fact as to how the estate was acquired.

2d. That, as to personal property, it was the design where there were no descendants, that it should go to collaterals in the same way it would have gone to descendants, if there had been any; that is to say, per capita, if in equal degree, and per stirpes, if in unequal degree, and without inquiry as to how the property was acquired by the intestate.

3d. That, as to real estate, it was the design of the Legislature, where there were no descendants, to point out the lines of the succession, and that this is to depend on the fact, whether the inheritance is ancestral or new; and if ancestral, then whether it come from the paternal or maternal line.

4th. If the inheritance was ancestral, and come from the father's side, then it will go to the line on the part of the father, from whence it came, not in postponement but in exclusion, of the mother's line; and so on the other hand, if it come from the mother's side, then to the line on the part of the mother, from whence it came, to the exclusion of the father's line.

5th. If the inheritance be not ancestral, but a new acquisition, then, after a life estate, reserved in succession to the father and mother, if alive, it will go in remainder, first to the line of the intestate's paternal uncle and aunts, and their descendants, in post ponement of the mother's line, until the former becomes extinct; and then to the line of the intestate's maternal uncle and aunts, and their descendants; unless there should be kindred, lineal or collateral, who, either in right of propinquity, or by right of representation, stand in a nearer relation to the intestate than the uncles and aunts; in which case, such nearer kindred would take the inheritance to the exclusion of both of these collateral lines; and, in their hands, it would become an ancestral estate, and always go in the blood of the relative from whence it came, in the ordinary course of descent prescribed for ancestral inheritances Digest, secs. 10, and 11, p. 437.

6th. That, when the inheritance is fixed, by these facts, in any given line, it will pursue that line until it becomes extinct, and the objects of bounty, and the order in which they succeed one another, and the proportion they take, are to be ascertained by the 1st section, which is to be considered as the general table of descent. The father, mother, brothers ,sisters, and so on, mentioned in that section, are those who are to be considered when counting from any propositus, whether the propositus of a single line only, or the concurrent propositus of both lines, as the intestate is, as to personal property.

7th. In all cases where the inheritance is in any one line, if it goes in succession, per capita, if in equal degree, and per stirpes, if in an unequal degree, precisely as if the other line was extinct, and precisely as the inheritance of a bastard would take a course in his mother's line, he having no father's line at all.

8th. The half-blood and their descendants, take personalty, as well as realty, equally with the whole-blood, except that they are excluded from real estate when ancestral, if they lack the blood of the transmitting ancestor."

Sec. 23. "Every person of lawful age and sound mind may by last will and testament devise and bequeath all of his estate, real and personal, and all interest therein; Provided, That no will of a full-blood Indian devising real estate shall be valid, if such last will and testament disinherits the parent, wife, spouse, or children of such full-blood Indian, unless acknowledged before and approved by a judge of the United States court for the Indian Territory, or a United States Commissioner."

Schedule to Constitution of Oklahoma.

Wilson's Revised and Annotated Statutes of Oiklahoma.

(6893) Succession is the coming in of another to take the property of one who dies without disposing of it by will.

(6894) The property, both real and personal, of one who dies without disposing of it by will, passes to the heirs of the intestate, subject to the control of the probate court, and to the possession of any administrator appointed by that court for the purpose of administration.

(6895) When any person having title to any estate not otherwise limited by marriage contract, dies without disposing of the estate by will, it is succeeded to and must be distributed, unless otherwise expressly provided in this code and the chapter on probate court, subject to the payment of his debts, in the following manner:

First. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband, or wife, and child, or issue of such child. 'If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and more than one child living, or one child living, and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child, by right of representation; but if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all his lineal descendants; and if all the descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent they share equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation. If the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leaves issue, the whole estate goes to such issue, and if such issue consists of more than one child living, or one child living and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, then the estate goes in equal shares to the children living, or to the child living, and the issue of the deceased child or children by right of representation.

Second. If the decedent leave no issue, the estate goes in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife, and to the decedent's father. If there be no father, then one-half goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation; if he leave a mother also, she takes an equal share with the b others and sisters. If decedent leave no issue, nor husband nor wi e, the estate must go to the father.

Third. If there be no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation; if a mother survive, she takes an equal share with the brothers and sisters.

Fourth. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, and no brother or sister is living at the time of his death, the estate goes to his mother to the exclusion of the issue, if any, of deceased brothers or sisters.

Fifth. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and no issue, and no father, nor mother, nor brother, nor sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife.

Sixth. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, and no father nor mother, nor brother nor sister, the estate must go to the next of kin, in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred, in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claimed through the nearest ancestors must be preferred to those claiming through an ancestor more remote. However:

Seventh. If the decedent leave several children, or one child and the issue of one or more children, and any such surviving child dies under age, and not having been married, all the estate that came to the deceased child by inheritance from such decedent descends in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who are dead, by right of representation.

Eighth. If, at the death of such child who dies under age, not having been married, all the other children of his parents are also dead, and any of them have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his parent descends to the issue of all other children of the same parent; and if all the issue are in the same degree of kindred to the child, they share the estate equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation.

Ninth. If the decedent leave no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate escheats to the Territory for the support of common schools.

(6896) Dower and courtesy are abolished.

(6897) Every illegitimate child is an heir of the person who in writing, signed in the presence of a competent witness, acknowledges himself to be the father of such child; and in all cases is an heir of his mother; and inherits his or her estate, in whole or in part, as the case may be, in the same manner as if he had been born in lawful wedlock; but he does not represent his father or mother by inheriting any part of the estate of his or her kindred, either lineal or collateral, unless before his death his parents shall have intermarried, and his father, after such marriage, acknowledges him as his child, or adopts him into his family; in which case such child and all the legitimate children are considered brothers and sisters, and on the death of either of them, intestate, and without issue, the others inherit his estate, and are heirs as hereinbefore provided, in like manner as if all the children had been legitimate; saving to the father and mother respectively, their rights in the estate of all the children in like manner as if all had been legitimate. The issue of all marriages null in law or dissolved by divorce, are legitimate.

(6898) If an illegitimate child, who has not been acknowledged, or adopted by his father, dies intestate, without lawful issue, his estate goes to his mother, or, in case of her decease, to her heirs at law.

(6899) The degree of kindred is established by the number of generations, and each generation is called a degree.

(6900) The series of degrees from the line; the series of degrees between persons who descend from one another, is called direct or lineal consanguinity; and the series of degrees between persons who did not descend from one another, but spring from a common ancestor, is called the collateral line or collateral consanguinity.

(6901) The direct line is divided into a direct line descending and the direct line ascending. The first is that which connects the ancestor with those who descend from him. The second is that which connects a person with thosef rom whom he descends.

(6902) In the direct line there are as many degrees as there are generations. Thus the son is, with regard to the father, in the first degree; the grandson in the second; and vice versa with regard to the father and grandfather toward the sons and grandsons.

(6903) In the collateral line the degrees are counted by generations, from one of the relations up to the common ancestor, and from the common ancestor to the other relations. In such computation the decedent is excluded, the relative included, and the ancestor counted but once. Thus brothers are related in the second degree, uncle and nephew in the third degree, cousins german in the fourth degree, and so on.

(6904) Kindred of the half blood inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance come to the intestate by descent devise or gift of some one of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestors must be excluded from such inheritance.

(6905) Any estate, real or personal, given by the decedent in his life time, as an advancement to any child or other lineal descendant, is a part of the estate of the decedent for the purposes of division and distribution thereof among his issue, and must be taken by such child, or other lineal descendant, toward his share of the estate of the decedent.
